

Susan Wolburgh Jenah
President and CEO

Susan Wolburgh Jenah is President and Chief Executive Officer of the Investment Industry Regulatory Organization of Canada (IIROC), a position she has held since the regulator was established in June of 2008.

Ms. Wolburgh Jenah was appointed President and CEO of the Investment Dealers Association of Canada (IDA) in June 2007 and was responsible for leading the merger of the IDA and Market Regulation Services Inc. (RS) to form IIROC. Before joining the IDA, Ms. Wolburgh Jenah served as Vice Chair of the Ontario Securities Commission from 2004-2007 and as Acting Chair of the Commission from July to November 2005. Prior to her appointment as Vice Chair, she served as General Counsel and Director of International Affairs, representing the Commission on various Committees of the International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO).

Ms. Wolburgh Jenah has a B.A. from the University of Toronto and an LL.B. from Osgoode Hall Law School (Osgoode Hall). She was called to the Bar in Ontario in 1982. In June 2004, she graduated from the inaugural Directors Education Program offered by the Rotman School of Business and the Institute of Corporate Directors (ICD) and holds an ICD.D designation.

She served as a Director on the Commission's Investor Education Fund (2004-2006), as the Canadian Securities Administrators representative on Canada's Accounting Standards Oversight Council (2004-2007), and on the Dean's Advisory Council for Osgoode Hall Law School (2007-2009). She currently serves on the Board of Directors of IIROC, the ICD and on the advisory boards of both the Hennick Centre for Business and Law as well as the Social and Enterprise Development Innovations (SEDI) National Steering Committee on Financial Capability.
