New e-mail alerts added to e-publications

E-publications now includes two additional e-mail alert selections to provide subscribers with timely information on upcoming advisor educational web casts and investor alerts.

The Advisor Educational Web Casts category provides e-publications users with content and registration information regarding upcoming web casts and conference calls presented by the IDA's Member Services department.

Subscribers may also want to select the new Investor Alerts category which includes information regarding investment industry related scams and frauds that are of current concern to industry regulators.

E-publications is a free online subscription service, whereby individuals can sign up to receive e-mail alerts when new publications or documents of interest to them are posted on the IDA's website. In order to subscribe, simply logon to the IDA's website at www.ida.ca and complete the Subscription Page by selecting from the list of e-mail alert categories including news releases, bulletins, notices, publications, education and speaking events, regulations and more. As soon as new information is published on the IDA's website, e-publications will automatically e-mail you the direct link to the information you want. As e-publications is a self-managed system, subscribers can change their selection criteria whenever and as many times as they want, making it a quick and easy way to receive information.
